The background of the cover is a photograph of two people climbing out of a cave. The cave's interior is dark and textured with rock formations. The opening of the cave reveals a bright, clear blue sky. The two individuals are silhouetted against this light. One person is on the left, wearing a white helmet and reaching out. The other person is on the right, wearing a red helmet and a large backpack, and is helping the first person up. The overall mood is one of achievement and teamwork.
