THROUGH CATCHING READING

About the Program Consultants:

Sharon Cook is a certified reading specialist who has taught at all levels, from elementary through college. She has developed and taught a reading lab for at-risk readers, chaired the California Association of Teachers Convention, and served on that association's board. She finished her public school education career as a language arts coordinator for a large school district in California, working primarily with teachers in grades 4–12. Although she is officially retired, Sharon writes and consults with teachers on helping students become successful readers and presents workshops on reading strategies. Sharon is the co-author of Secondary Reading Assessment Inventory for Middle and High School Students.

Kathie Babigian has taught grades K–8. In middle school, she expanded Reciprocal Teaching into a process that could be implemented across the curriculum, adding a variety of effective practices and literacy strategies. Kathie is currently the coordinator of the Literacy Training Center, which offers staff development to teachers from all parts of California in literacy strategies for struggling readers. In addition, Kathie travels throughout California training teachers. Kathie is the co-author of Secondary Reading Assessment Inventory for Middle and High School Students.
