IMPORTANT

HERE IS YOUR REGISTRATION CODE TO ACCESS MCGRAW-HILL PREMIUM CONTENT AND MCGRAW-HILL ONLINE RESOURCES

For key premium online resources you need THIS CODE to gain access. Once the code is entered, you will be able to use the web resources for the length of your course.

Access is provided only if you have purchased a new book.

If the registration code is missing from this book, the registration screen on our website, and within your WebCT or Blackboard course will tell you how to obtain your new code. Your registration code can be used only once to establish access. It is not transferable.

To gain access to these online resources

1. USE your web browser to go to: www.mhhe.com/krysik1
2. CLICK on "First Time User"
3. ENTER the Registration Code printed on the tear-off bookmark on the right
4. After you have entered your registration code, click on "Register"
5. FOLLOW the instructions to setup your personal UserID and Password
6. WRITE your UserID and Password down for future reference. Keep it in a safe place.

If your course is using WebCT or Blackboard, you'll be able to use this code to access the McGraw-Hill content within your instructor's online course.

To gain access to the McGraw-Hill content in your instructor's WebCT or Blackboard course simply log into the course with the user ID and Password provided by your instructor. Enter the registration code exactly as it appears to the right when prompted by the system. You will only need to use this code the first time you click on McGraw-Hill content.

These instructions are specifically for student access. Instructors are not required to register via the above instructions.

This is a much-needed series for social work education and the social work profession...one of the best I have seen in decades!

—Mildred C. Joyner, West Chester University

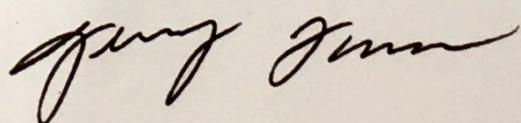

Each title is the first of its kind to offer instructors and their students a multidimensional understanding and experience of the world of social work:

- Each book in the series is accompanied by a custom Web site, updated weekly, that allows students to examine events in the news and to think about and discuss those events in the context of what they are reading. The Web site also links students to a wealth of carefully selected Internet resources that are constantly updated and refreshed.
- A specially designed online reader, The Social Work Library, is also available to students, with over 100 articles and book chapters linked to the key ideas and principles covered in each volume in the series.
- Practicing Social Work™*, a CD-ROM packaged with each volume in the series, offers complex, richly populated case exercises, with multiple options in text and video for analysis and intervention. The CD gives students a real-world sense of how social workers approach cases from micro, mezzo, and macro perspectives and trains them in the use of social work tools they will likely encounter in their professional lives.
- A free booklet on social work ethics accompanies each text in recognition of CSWE recommendations, and is authored by Kim Strom-Gottfried, University of North Carolina, who is nationally recognized for her educational workshops on the subject.

New Directions in Social Work is a comprehensive effort by a team of accomplished social work educators to move social work education forward. We want to help you enrich and deepen your students' learning experiences. And we want to know what you think! Please e-mail us with your feedback. In the meantime, we welcome your students to a most gratifying, heartbreaking, edifying profession: social work.

DETAILED CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1

The Context of Social Work Research 1

Case-in-Point 1.1: Impact on Mental Health Services 2

The Functions of Social Work Research 3

Promoting Science as a Way of Knowing 3

Increasing Accountability 5

Improving Communication 5

Enhancing Access to Scarce Resources 6

Controversies in the History of Social Work Research 6

Historical Controversy 1: Is Social Work a Profession? 6

Case-in-Point 1.2: Research Proves Critical to Maintaining Scarce Resources 7

Historical Controversy 2: Do Social Workers Use Research? 9

Historical Controversy 3: Is Research Relevant to Social Work? 9

Lessons Learned from the Controversies 13

The Professional Mandate 14

NASW and CSWE 15

The Infrastructure to Support Social Work Research 16

Trends That Support Research Utilization 17

Government Performance and Results Act 17

Evidence-Based Practice 18

Professional Social Work Practice 19

Making a Commitment to Lifelong Learning 19

Case-in-Point 1.3: Public Perception of Social Work 20

Research Opportunities for Entry-Level Social Workers 21

Conclusion 22

Main Points 22

Exercises: Practicing Social Work 23

Exercises: The Social Work Library 23

Other Exercises 24

CHAPTER 2

The Politics and Ethics of Social Work Research 25

Social Work Research: The Means to Social Justice 26

Case-in-Point 2.1: Legislative Use of Evaluation 27

Funding for Social Work Research 28

What's Hot, What's Not 28

The Politics of Intervention 29

The Ethics of Research 31

Case-in-Point 2.2: The Tuskegee Syphilis Study 31

Rules of Ethical Conduct 31

Case-in-Point 2.3: Havasupai Indians Sue Arizona State University 37

Case-in-Point 2.4: Obtaining a High Rate of Participation through Active Consent 43

Confidentiality and Anonymity 44

Conclusion 45

Main Points 46

Exercises: Practicing Social Work 47

Exercises: The Social Work Library 47

Other Exercises 47

CHAPTER 3

The Research Process: From Problems to Research Questions 49

Overview of the Research Process 51

Case-in-Point 3.1: Prevention Program Fails to Address the Target Problem 52

Identifying the Research Problem	52
Making the Case to Study a Research Problem	54
Striving for Cultural Proficiency	55
Formulating the Research Question and Hypotheses	59
Formulating the General Research Question	59
Conducting the Literature Review	61
Case-in-Point 3.2: Using Theory as a Guide	63
Specifying the General Research Question	64
Case-in-Point 3.3: Poverty: An Outdated Definition of a Concept	66
Case-in-Point 3.4: Exploratory Research: The Emotional Needs of Refugees	69
Developing Research Hypotheses	70
Sensitivity to Culture in Formulating the Research Question	72
Case-in-Point 3.5: Explanatory Research: Serious Violent Behavior	74
Building Confidence through Critical Analysis	73
Conclusion	75
Main Points	75
Exercises: Practicing Social Work	76
Exercises: The Social Work Library	76
Other Exercises	77

CHAPTER 4

Group Research Design	78
A Purpose-Driven Approach to Selecting a Research Design	79
Exploratory Research Questions	79
Descriptive Research Questions	80
Explanatory Research Questions	81
Types of Group Research Designs	82
Case-in-Point 4.1: Home Visitation in the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect	84

Notation and Terminology of Group Research Design	84
Describing Group Research Design Notation	89
Advanced Skill Development 4.1: To Use or Not to Use a Pretest	90
Pre-experimental Research Designs	92
Quasi-Experimental Group Research Designs	93
Experimental Research Designs	96
Advanced Skill Development 4.2: Overcoming Objections to Experiments	97
Limitations of Group Research Designs	100
Threats to Internal Validity	100
Case-in-Point 4.2: When Good Experiments Go Bad	101
Case-in-Point 4.3: When a Research Cadillac Turns Out to Be a Lemon	103
Threats to External Validity	104
Conclusion	105
Main Points	106
Exercises: Practicing Social Work	106
Exercises: The Social Work Library	107
Other Exercises	107

CHAPTER 5

Sampling	108
Defining the Population	109
Why Sample?	110
Developing a Sampling Frame	111
Sources of Error	112
Selecting a Sampling Approach	112
Probability Sampling Approaches	113
Case-in-Point 5.1: Nationwide Study on Female Sexuality	114
Nonprobability Sampling Approaches	122
Case-in-Point 5.2: The Homeless Street Count	123

Case-in-Point 5.3: Sampling for a Community Needs Assessment	124
What Is the Correct Sample Size?	126
Desired Precision	127
Managing Variation	128
Considering the Number of Variables	129
Accounting for Attrition	130
Conclusion	131
Main Points	132
Exercises: Practicing Social Work	132
Exercises: The Social Work Library	133

CHAPTER 6

Measurement	135
From Concept to Measurement	136
The Context of Measurement	137
Case-in-Point 6.1: Operationalizing Elder Abuse	138
Measurement in Qualitative and Quantitative Research	139
Survey Research	140
Observational Research	142
Existing Records	143
Measurement Tools	144
Standardized Instruments	144
Measurement Error	147
Evaluating the Quality of Measures	149
Measurement Validity	149
Measurement Reliability	152
Measurement Utility	154
Measurement Performance	155

Advanced Skill Development 6.1: Demonstrating Change through Measurement 156

Principles of Measurement Design 157

Levels of Measurement 157

Tips to Maximize Response Rate 160

Tips to Minimize Error 163

Pretesting of Measures 165

Case-in-Point 6.2: How the Question Can Influence the Response 166

The Politics of Measurement 167

Case-in-Point 6.3: The Restricted Definition of Marriage 168

Conclusion 168

Main Points 169

Exercises: Practicing Social Work 170

Exercises: The Social Work Library 170

Other Exercises 170

CHAPTER 7

Implementation: From Data Collection to Data Entry 171

Selecting a Data Collection Method 172

Mail Surveys 173

Telephone Surveys 173

In-Person Surveys 176

Internet Surveys 176

Nonresponse in Survey Research 178

Focus Group Interviews 180

Advanced Skill Development 7.1: Calculating Response Rates 181

Selecting among the Options 183

Case-in-Point 7.1: The NASW Sampling Frame: How Would You Like It Served? 184

Recruiting Research Participants 185

Cialdini's Six Recruitment Strategies	185
Tailoring Recruitment to the Target Participant	191
Planning for Retention	194
Preparing for Data Collection	199
Developing a Data Collection Protocol	199
Hiring and Training Data Collectors	203
Developing the Database	204
Deciding on a Unique Identifier	206
Developing the Data Codebook	207
Specifying Missing Data	208
Entering the Data	210
Preparing Qualitative Data	211
Working within a Budget	212

CHAPTER 8
Describing the Data	219
Verifying Quantitative Data	223
Case-in-Point 8.1: Avoiding GIGO: Garbage In, Garbage Out	223
Ordering the Data	224
Examining the Data Graphically	227
Recoding Data	228
Computing Scales by Combining Multiple Variables	230
Describing Quantitative Data	235
Central Tendency	235

Advanced Skill Development 8.1: Selecting the Best Measure of Central Tendency 238

Variability 238

The Shapes of Distributions 241

Advanced Skill Development 8.2: Deciding Whether to Exclude an Outlier 245

Reporting Descriptive Analyses 245

Analyzing Qualitative Data 249

Organizing the Data into Concepts 250

Developing the Story 252

Validating the Conclusions 253

Reporting the Findings 254

Conclusion 255

Main Points 256

Exercises: Practicing Social Work 256

Exercises: The Social Work Library 257

Other Exercises 257

CHAPTER 9

Bivariate Statistics and Statistical Inference 258

Statistical Significance Testing 260

Errors of Statistical Inference 262

Impact of Sample Size 263

Statistical Significance Testing in Nonexperimental Research 263

Common Bivariate Statistical Tests 264

Linear Correlation 265

Case-in-Point 9.1: Attitudes of MSW Students toward Online Therapy 270

Crosstabulation 271

Case-in-Point 9.2: Cyberstalking and GLBT Students 277

t-Tests: Comparing the Difference between Two Means	278
Independent Samples t-Test	279
Paired Samples t-Test	281
One Sample t-Test	283
Analysis of Variance	284
Advanced Skill Development 9.1: Suggestions on Reporting the Findings	288
Six Common Pitfalls to Avoid in Significance Testing	288
Conclusion	291
Main Points	292
Exercises: Practicing Social Work	293
Exercises: The Social Work Library	293
