How an Ex-Music Teacher Became a Maui Millionaire— And How You Can, Too!

When David and Diane first invited me to be one of the guest Stars at their exclusive Maui Mastermind™ event, I never imagined that it would impact so many lives so deeply.

At that time I had a close friendship with Diane, whom I respected and admired a great deal, but I truly had no idea of the synergy and chemistry that she and David created with their one-of-a-kind wealth retreat.

There it was, in one concentrated five-and-a-half-day period, a presentation of all the core wealth secrets that had taken me decades to figure out on my own, through painful trial and error.

You see, I started off my career as a music teacher at Central Oregon College. As you can imagine, being a music teacher wasn't exactly the highest-paying profession. But I loved teaching music. So I started a small part-time business in the direct sales industry.

I never would have guessed how that one small decision would change my life forever. I started off with no background in business, with little more than a dream and a desire to earn a little extra income and to help people along the way.

Fast-forward many years to today. My business now has foreign affiliate companies in 50 countries on five continents. I get to work with thousands and thousands of associates all over the world, helping them build their successful businesses.
